

Sinclair Broadcasting should not be allowed to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. This violates everything that's good about a democracy, especially since we know that many U.S. citizens take what's on TV as absolute truth.

This is another example of why we should be strengthening media ownership rules, not weakening them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard.

Thank you.